Wrong Numbers Give Headaches To New Mailmen

Through the muddle of fouled up addresses caused by incorrect numbering system in town, city delivery mail service finally got out to 400 people Monday, the first day the service was offered. Even in the face of many difficulties the delivery service is getting off to a better start than was first expected according to Postmaster Guy Harp.

The incorrect numbering system concerns street addresses of town. People who live south of First Street have their address beginning with a 2 and it should begin with 1. In other words the streets run upward from north to south but were numbered as if they ran from south to north and there is a difference.

Since city delivery service began a number of changes have been made. All letter mail must have 3 cents postage whether it is for a post office box or a route. No longer can "city" be written in as an address, the postoffice must have the correct address or the mail will be returned or go to a dead letter office.

City Secretary Dudley Bayne has been working on the job of changing house numbers and by yesterday afternoon said at least 220 houses facing the streets would have to be re-numbered. Officials do not know how many houses on the avenues will have to be re-numbered.

Bayne said it might take two or three weeks to do the job of getting proper numbers on all the houses. The mistake in the street numbers came in the system of numbering.

Postmaster Harp is requesting that everyone make a definite arrangement for receiving mail, either at home or at the postoffice. General delivery service is supposed to be for transients only. Those people who have boxes and are changing over to city delivery service are requested to return the box keys to the postoffice as soon as possible. Harp said the postoffice would pay for the keys.

He also said those people interested in getting boxes should come in and ask for them early. He hopes there will be enough boxes for the folks who prefer them to city delivery service.

A change is also being made in delivery of mail to business houses. Even though a business gets its mail from a box at the postoffice, that business can still have packages and parcels delivered to it. In order to get this service the manager or owner of the business should obtain a card from the postoffice and fill out the card and return it. Harp said cooperation of the general public was being sought in the new type of service in order that it could be more efficiently operated.

3 Drunk Driving Fines Assessed

Three men were picked up over the week-end on charges of driving while intoxicated. All three of the men had been tried by 10 a. m. Monday in County Judge Roy J. Stevens' court. Each was assessed a fine of $100 plus court cost.

Two of the men had paid their fines Monday morning and were already released from jail. One of the men was being held in jail for a period of three days before he could be released even if he wanted to pay his fine. The three day jail sentence is mandatory for multiple DWI offenders.

Court Holds Up Hiway Decision

The State Highway Commission has demanded that the highway between Canyon and Amarillo must be widened 100 feet on either side, or a total of 300 feet if the State is to participate in widening the highway to a four lane structure between Canyon and Amarillo.

The widening of 36th Street in Amarillo must be between 210 and 260 feet according to the demands of the Commission.

Judge Roy Joe Stevens stated Monday that if the project is built according to plans, every house along the highway would have to be moved. The cost in Amarillo would be very heavy, and no one has yet figured out what it would cost the taxpayers of Randall county to furnish the necessary land to meet the demands of the State in this widening project.

So far the Commissioners Court of Randall county has played the waiting game on the highway. The result of the widening will depend entirely upon what Amarillo is willing to do about moving all of the houses along the present highway.

It would require a bond issue so far as Randall county is concerned to do the project, and so far the Commissioners are unwilling to submit such a bond issue to the voters, according to Judge Stevens.

The State has given Randall and Potter counties 180 days for action upon the proposal.

Another bit of Panhandle lore has been added to Panhandle Plains Historical Museum with the picture of John G. Davidson, founder of the Plainview Herald. The picture was recently sent to Bob Hilburn by 86-year-old Ben Brown of George West, Texas.

Brown heard Hilburn speak on a national radio hookup and as he is seeking someone to leave certain articles of historical value with, he sent the photo. Hilburn in turn is presenting the picture to the museum.

Along with the letter which Brown wrote about some of the people he knew back in the pioneer days. The picture of Davidson that he sent is an early day photograph. Davidson is the father of Wallace Setton of Plainview. Mr. Brown also explained that he had a brother, Buford Brown, who married Hattie Workman. Hattie Workman is the oldest daughter of Mrs. Mittie E. Pipkin Workman and the oldest sister of Mrs. Ethel Mullins, of Canyon.

Red Cross Sends Christmas Packs

Mrs. Bessie Melton, head of the Randall County chapter of the Red Cross, has prepared and mailed the local Red Cross high seas Christmas packages. The packages were mailed last week as they had to be mailed in time to arrive on the West Coast on or before Dec. 1.

"This year the chapter is sending 36 packages instead of the usual 24," stated Mrs. Melton. Value of the packages had also been reduced from $250 to $150. Although the packages are for boys overseas and those on the high seas, there is a possibility that there will be more than enough packages for these fellows.

In the event that all packages are not used on the high seas and overseas, they will be returned to the U. S. and distributed to boys in veteran's hospitals.

Among the contents of the packages being sent overseas are such items as pencil with clip, photo folder, billfold, pocket flashlight (pencil type), bottle opener, key ring, cigarette case, pocket size novel, comic books, playing cards, oilskin pouch, ball-point pen, gum and hard candy.

New Elementary Building With Improvements on Present Plant

Voters will decide whether or not Canyon is to have a new elementary school Saturday when they go to the polls and pass or turn thumbs down on the $550,000 bond issue needed to build the new school and expand present plant facilities. Last week The News took a man-on-the-street type poll and found that most of the local people were for the new school. Although most citizens had expected a new high school, they were willing to settle for a new elementary school building.

40,000 Pounds Of Wheat Taken From Elevator

About 40,000 pounds of wheat were taken Thursday night from the Hane Switch Elevator, about half way between Canyon and Amarillo. "There was approximately $1,500 worth of wheat taken," Sheriff L. S. Johnston said Friday after an investigation of the premises. He also said the exact time of the break-in was not known.

Frank Thompson, manager of the elevator, left work Thursday night and every thing was in order. When he came to work at 8:15 Friday morning he found the wheat gone. Johnston said it appeared that the thieves had entered a small side door and opened the large doors so they could pull in their truck or trucks.

The sheriff said that it may have been a large semi-trailer that took the wheat or possibly could have been two smaller trucks.

900 Attend Open House of Phone Company Here

An estimated crowd of 900 visited the new Southwestern Bell Telephone building during its open house Thursday and Friday nights. Purpose of the open house was to show the general public how the company's new dial system works.

There was a telephone apparatus set up in the front office to show the public something about what happens when you dial a number. The visitors also had the opportunity to view the rear of the building to see the mechanism which gives the dial tone, busy signal, or gets the number you dial.

Open house was the second public gathering observed at the new telephone building in less than a month. The first affair was the cutover party held Saturday night, October 31. After witnessing the changeover from operator to dial telephone service, the crowd was treated to refreshments at a local cafe.

For the past 34 years Potter county has been holding a semi-annual singing convention. Taylor, founder of the organization, said everyone is invited.

Among the other officials in the convention are Harvey Brannon, president, Pat Holland, high secretary, and Thomas H. Larson, field manager.

15 Farmers Ask Hay Rebates

Certificates have been issued to farmers for the purchase of 310 tons of hay under the latest Drouth Emergency Program.

The County P.M.A. office started taking applications Monday, Nov. 9. Only 15 farmers had applied for the certification for the freight rebates on hay up to Monday morning. All of the 15 were approved by the County Drouth Emergency Committee.

Many cattle owners are waiting to file applications on account of trying to buy hay locally or near enough to do their own buying and hauling.

Applications are now being filed in the P.M.A. office for a second 30 day supply of concentrate feeds. The first 30 day supply of corn and oats has been delivered to most eligible farmers.

No shipments of cottonseed meal or pellets have been received as yet.

Audubon Society To Show Film in Amarillo Sunday

First of a series of films for the Audubon Society for this area will be shown Sunday at the Amarillo High School auditorium. Although Amarillo is headquarters for the Audubon Society members in this area there are members from all sections of the Plains. At least two local persons are members of this society. They are Joe Bailey of West Texas State and Sarah Thompson of West Texas State.

There will be no admission charge for the films and the lectures. There are only 1,500 seats in the high school auditorium, but it is hoped that by having a matinee and an evening performance, all those desiring to see the films can be seated. Afternoon program begins at 2 o'clock and evening performance at 8 o'clock.

Film to be shown Sunday was filmed by Tom and Arlene Hadley of Holly, Michigan. Hadley is a naturalist, wildlife photographer, and philosopher. The film, "America the Beautiful," was shot on a 50,000 mile trek through the Black Hills, Rocky Mountains, across the Great Plains, down the West Coast, the Rio Grande, across Oklahoma and Texas to Minnesota and down the Mississippi River to New Orleans, then through the South and up the East Coast.

It's Your School and Your Children to Educate—Vote!

The Canyon News took a survey of the school situation and comes up with this opinion. The bond issue will carry Saturday simply by strength of the argument that the youth of today will pay most of the bill which is created by a mortgage upon the future.

This being the case, we say that the voters of the Canyon Independent School District owe it to the children who are in the grade school and who should be given the greatest opportunity possible in their education for the world's battle of tomorrow.

We have never held to the opinion that every bond issue which is presented should be accepted blindly by the voters. Yet this is often the case.

The school situation in Canyon is no better or no worse than it is in many other towns of the Panhandle. Yet these other towns are doing something about the situation. It is up to the citizens to do something about the situation in the vote of the coming Saturday.

We hear there is some opposition to voting another bond issue on the people of the school district. As a matter of record, the school board did not go into this building program blindly. The school building is proposed simply because the children need this improvement, and the parents of these children approve the idea.

More than 100 citizens have studied the school situation in Canyon. They recommend the new building as the only solution.

If the present arrangement could be carried forward into the future, there might be some justification for postponing the building program until prices have fallen.

President J. P. Cornette advised The News that the Board of Regents had ordered the training school discontinued, which has been done; and that the space now required for the junior high school be turned back to the college by September, 1954, if possible; and by September 1955 as the absolute limit. The college must have the space now used by the junior high school for classes. Since each and every citizen of Randall county is interested in the future growth and development of West Texas State, the people of this district have no right to impose upon the good graces of the college and ask that it continue to furnish space which the people of the district should be furnishing.

Dr. Cornette states that he hopes to keep one section of the lower grades for practice teaching, since the younger children do not interfere with college work.

So you see, the voters of the Canyon Independent School District have no choice in the matter.

We must vote for the bond issue on November 21 and solve the problem of space for educational purposes.

Postal Crew Is in a Dither Over New City Delivery Service

Postmaster Guy Harp and his crew of assistants are in a tail spin this week.

On top of the regular counting of mail, incoming and outgoing, and working the cost system which is required of only a few postoffices in the state, they are confronted with the job of city delivery of mail.

It will be a long and somewhat tedious procedure to work out all of the details of city delivery. Some folks who now think that they do not want delivery service will change back to their boxes; while those with boxes will change over to the city delivery service.

The delivery service was started in the middle of the month; without warning to the local office; and it caught most of us off base.

Make the best of the situation and see how you like the service after a fair trial.

Farmers Gamble All of the Way; Don't Complain at Subsidies

People who play the races have nothing on the farmer. Even the most avid of them are pikers by comparison.

Horses are predictable; the elements . . . and insects . . . and plant diseases . . . and farm market prices are not.

Quietly, without fanfare the farmer places his bets. Day in and day out, year after year, he does so every time he seeds a crop or puts in a batch of broilers. The market may be fine when they mature; or the bottom may have dropped out. The boll weevil or the army worm or blight may hit him, or it may not. There may be a flood, a drought, or a windstorm. Excessive rain may ruin his plantings. Disease may hit his hogs; excessive heat may endanger his chickens. He never knows the odds.

City-folk often look upon the farmer's life as an easy one; as something to retire to someday. Frequently they are prone to complain that the government coddles him too much; that the price for this or that is too high at the corner grocery . . . and all those surpluses!

Yet, who else would run the risks, would do as much for as little?

Men Losing Their Teeth Much Faster Than Women of Nation

The American Dental Association reported recently men are more likely to lose their teeth than women, mainly because they fail to go to the dentist as regularly as do members of the fairer sex. A survey showed that one out of ten men loses all of his teeth, while only one woman in 15 finally loses hers.

The survey showed that perfect dental health is found in about one out of 12 patients. Another interesting finding of the survey is that tooth decay is apparently the main reason for loss of teeth among males up to the age of 34, but that after that, gum ailments and other diseases exact the heaviest toll. Tooth decay is the principal reason for the loss of teeth among females up to the age of 39.

About the only alibi the males have in this situation is that most dentists are men. Perhaps the women are more inclined to visit dentists of the opposite sex than men are to visit male dentists. A test of this theory might prove interesting to the men.

Latest Rumors From Political Front of Nation

President Eisenhower is more surprised than some of his top aides over election upsets in this off year that make some dent in Republican political strength. The President had no idea that voters could develop irritations in such a short time.

Mr. Eisenhower likes the line of appeal of the "liberal" or "New Deal" wing of the Republican Party—in any new appeal for votes—more than he does that of the "old guard," or conservative wing. The President finds it difficult to make an all-out attack upon the Democrats with whom he was associated in past years.

Sherman Adams, staff chief for Mr. Eisenhower, is going to be under great pressure to pay more attention to practical Republican politicians who hold seats in Congress. Some of the more down-to-earth Republicans have complained for months about what they say is a White House tendency to give them and their ideas a polite brush-off.

Leonard Hall, who heads the Republican National Committee, from now on is to have more say about who gets jobs and about the line of appeal that is carried in publicity for the Republican Party. Mr. Hall has not been happy about the way the brain trust of his party has been calling the political plays.

Milton Eisenhower, the President's brother, won out over some key Republican Senators in an argument over reorganizing the Soil Conservation Service. Brother Milton lined up on the side of the land-grant colleges and the Farm Bureau Federation, and against some of the party's more astute farm-belt politicians, and got the President's nod.

The President is not any more inclined after elections of 1953 than before to give greater attention to the political advice of Senator Joseph McCarthy, Senator William Jenner or others from the "right wing" of the Republican Party. Many Republican Senators have argued for a more vigorous White House policy of attack against the Democrats.

White House advisers are swinging around to the view that a big Government lending agency—an RFC by another name—will have to be set up to provide easier loans for businessmen who get into trouble. The Small Business Administration that Congress endowed with limited power to lend already is regarded as inadequate.

Senator Harry Byrd is under growing pressure in his State to lead a strong fight against re-election for three Republicans who now hold seats in Congress from Virginia. When the Republican Party went all out to try to elect a Governor in Virginia on November 3 they made it difficult for the Democratic organization of that State to co-operate on the national level in the future.

Ezra Benson, Agriculture Secretary, is steering far away from the idea that Government farm programs should be disaster insurance and is being quoted by farm-State Senators as favoring price supports for major crops higher than those that had been provided by the Democrats. If Republican Senators hear right, a Republican farm program is going to start where the Democratic program left off.

Leverett Saltonstall, Massachusetts Senator and chairman of the powerful Armed Services Committee, is reported not to be in good health at this time. If Senator Saltonstall should not be as active in the next Senate session, Senator Ralph Flanders, of Vermont, would assume Committee leadership. Senator Flanders is less inclined to go along with military services on all issues.

Admiral Arthur Radford, Chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, and his colleagues are strong for extending U. S. aid to help Pakistan build up its armed forces as a new and willing ally. John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, and the country's diplomats, however, incline to a "go slow" attitude for fear of offending India's Prime Minister Nehru.

Joseph Martin, Speaker of the House, has let it out in Europe that Republicans regard Senator Stuart Symington, Missouri Democrat, as the man the Democrats are most likely to nominate for the Presidency in 1956. Mr. Martin agreed with those who believe that Mr. Symington is the man that his party may have to beat to hold on to the White House.

Mme. Vijaya Pandit, head of the United Nations Assembly, is of the opinion that there must be two sides to the question of atrocities committed by Communists in their war against the United Nations. This attitude is raising some further question in Congress concerning U. N. leadership.

Sir Winston Churchill, if top Socialists in Britain are correct, will step out as Prime Minister before April, 1954. Anthony Eden now is regarded by these opposition leaders as Churchill's successor, who can hold office until 1956, when a new election is mandatory.

Two presidents have received the Nobel Prize. They were Theodore Roosevelt in 1906, and Woodrow Wilson in 1919.

The news recently in the papers that Ad Wolgast was seriously ill set in motion a whole chain of memories.

Wolgast long has been forgotten by the world but he was once the lightweight champion of that same world by virtue of a victory over one of the most famous fighters of his day, Battling Nelson. The "Durable Dane," they called Nelson; and the "Wisconsin Wildcat" was, I believe, Wolgast's nickname.

Ad Wolgast was responsible for my becoming, at the age of 13, an outstanding sports authority—outstanding, that is, in Coldwater, Mississippi.

When Wolgast was matched with Nelson in a finish fight for the title, no one in Coldwater (population, 1,500, give or take a couple of hundred) thought the challenger had a chance for the reason that no one there had ever heard of him. "No one" is not quite right; there was one—myself. I voiced the opinion that Wolgast would win, a view which was received with disdain.

I had spent the year before in Arizona and there I had read the Los Angeles papers, especially the sports section, and I knew that in the space of a week, Wolgast had fought two world's champions—Abe Attell, featherweight king, and Nelson—and Wolgast had won the "newspaper decision" in both bouts. A fellow that good, I believed, could stop the aging Nelson in a longer fight.

It went 40 rounds. Nelson was almost blind and could hardly raise his gloves at the start of that final round but he was courageous to the core. Ad, reluctant to hit his defenseless opponent, looked appealingly at the referee, and the official stopped the battle.

Wolgast was always the slambang type and he drew the crowds and kept them roaring. He figured in that rarest of all ring incidents: a double knockout, and the only one that ever happened in a championship fight. His adversary, Joe Rivers, a Mexican, was a terrific puncher. Each man landed at the same time and both went down. The referee (as I recall the accounts) counted "10" with both men out. Wolgast revived first—the two men were lying in a heap, Rivers on the bottom—and when Ad staggered to his feet, the official awarded him the fight.

After losing the belt, Wolgast toured the country with a carnival. In German, a young athlete, Bob Hammett, who weighed around 160, knocked out one of the carnival fighters, so he was matched against Wolgast. Ad floored him with a mighty wallop—"I felt like I had been kicked by a mule," Hammett said afterward, but he got up and knocked out the former lightweight champion of the world. (Hammett today is a sergeant of the State Highway Patrol and lives in Pecos.)

Wolgast won the title in 1910 and held it only two years. The blows he received in his many blistering battles affected his mind and he was placed in an institution. There, the years slipped by but in his own darkened understanding, Ad remained the young—a young, ambitious fighter who punched the bag, skipped the rope and explained, "I'm training to meet the champ." He thought that his fight with Battling Nelson was coming up. He lived in a shadow world and he literally shadow-boxed—yes, boxed with the shadows of the yesteryears.

And now he is reported dangerously ill. Pathetic little Ad Wolgast!

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Concern grows over Administration drive to stop inflation. No one seems to argue over the goal, just results.

Treasury Secretary Humphrey takes stand easy credit creates inflation, cheapens money. Many preventive measures are being taken including Federal Reserve Board stopping price support of government bonds.

Banks and lending institutions therefore, cannot get new cash by selling government bonds at par.

With lending money in shorter supply, banks are cutting down on loans, terms. This has affected sales of everything from appliances to new homes. Thus the same thing has been achieved as under now defunct government credit regulations, with one important difference.

Here is the difference. Under regulations, all dealers had to abide by the same terms. With present credit control brought about by Treasury manipulation of money supply, independent business is required to combat inflation, while a few huge retail outlets escape burden.

Here is how it works.

With lending money at a premium, banks are requiring independent dealers to get a down payment, write contract calling for payment of the balance over a comparatively short period before accepting contract.

But a few huge retailers daily advertise "no money down."

The procedure is this. Huge corporate retailers go to banks and borrow millions at a time to finance customer's installment purchases. They in turn, charge a higher rate of interest than banks charge to make profit from finance charges and goods, too.

In addition, some retailers have adopted what might be called permanent installment payment plans whereby a customer can buy goods up to any certain limit, pay so much monthly, and can continue buying to the limit of his credit plan. This could also be termed "keeping-customer-in-hock" plan.

This method of merchandising is denied average independent retailer, largely because he is not a big stock corporation with stockholders assets to pledge.

But there seems to be no question that easy lure of "no money down" is customer bait which is harming independent dealer volume, while unknowingly consumers pay huge interest rates.

Therefore, it appears Treasury has decided independent business must fight inflation, while others can increase inflation willy-nilly.

Installment buying has long been, will continue, as a debatable subject.

But the important immediate point is that present treasury policy is to restrict consumer credit to combat inflation.

Yet a few stockholder owned retailer operations are using the situation to take business away from independent competition, and also, if there is any validity to Treasury position, heap coals on the fires of inflation.

It is contradictions as this cause apathy toward government objectives so often deplored by Washington officials. But robbing Peter to pay Paul has never been a good basis on which to build goodwill and influence people.

It's Your School and Your Children to Educate—Vote!

The Canyon News took a survey of the school situation and comes up with this opinion. The bond issue will carry Saturday simply by strength of the argument that the youth of today will pay most of the bill which is created by a mortgage upon the future.

This being the case, we say that the voters of the Canyon Independent School District owe it to the children who are in the grade school and who should be given the greatest opportunity possible in their education for the world's battle of tomorrow.

We have never held to the opinion that every bond issue which is presented should be accepted blindly by the voters. Yet this is often the case.

The school situation in Canyon is no better or no worse than it is in many other towns of the Panhandle. Yet these other towns are doing something about the situation. It is up to the citizens to do something about the situation in the vote of the coming Saturday.

We hear there is some opposition to voting another bond issue on the people of the school district. As a matter of record, the school board did not go into this building program blindly. The school building is proposed simply because the children need this improvement, and the parents of these children approve the idea.

More than 100 citizens have studied the school situation in Canyon. They recommend the new building as the only solution.

If the present arrangement could be carried forward into the future, there might be some justification for postponing the building program until prices have fallen.

President J. P. Cornette advised The News that the Board of Regents had ordered the training school discontinued, which has been done; and that the space now required for the junior high school be turned back to the college by September, 1954, if possible; and by September 1955 as the absolute limit. The college must have the space now used by the junior high school for classes. Since each and every citizen of Randall county is interested in the future growth and development of West Texas State, the people of this district have no right to impose upon the good graces of the college and ask that it continue to furnish space which the people of the district should be furnishing.

Dr. Cornette states that he hopes to keep one section of the lower grades for practice teaching, since the younger children do not interfere with college work.

So you see, the voters of the Canyon Independent School District have no choice in the matter.

We must vote for the bond issue on November 21 and solve the problem of space for educational purposes.

Postal Crew Is in a Dither Over New City Delivery Service

Postmaster Guy Harp and his crew of assistants are in a tail spin this week.

On top of the regular counting of mail, incoming and outgoing, and working the cost system which is required of only a few postoffices in the state, they are confronted with the job of city delivery of mail.

It will be a long and somewhat tedious procedure to work out all of the details of city delivery. Some folks who now think that they do not want delivery service will change back to their boxes; while those with boxes will change over to the city delivery service.

The delivery service was started in the middle of the month; without warning to the local office; and it caught most of us off base.

Make the best of the situation and see how you like the service after a fair trial.

Farmers Gamble All of the Way; Don't Complain at Subsidies

People who play the races have nothing on the farmer. Even the most avid of them are pikers by comparison.

Horses are predictable; the elements . . . and insects . . . and plant diseases . . . and farm market prices are not.

Quietly, without fanfare the farmer places his bets. Day in and day out, year after year, he does so every time he seeds a crop or puts in a batch of broilers. The market may be fine when they mature; or the bottom may have dropped out. The boll weevil or the army worm or blight may hit him, or it may not. There may be a flood, a drought, or a wind storm. Excessive rain may ruin his plantings. Disease may hit his hogs; excessive heat may endanger his chickens. He never knows the odds.

City-folk often look upon the farmer's life as an easy one; as something to retire to someday. Frequently they are prone to complain that the government coddles him too much; that the price for this or that is too high at the corner grocery . . . and all those surpluses!

Yet, who else would run the risks, would do as much for as little?

Men Losing Their Teeth Much Faster Than Women of Nation

The American Dental Association reported recently men are more likely to lose their teeth than women, mainly because they fail to go to the dentist as regularly as do members of the fairer sex. A survey showed that one out of ten men loses all of his teeth, while only one woman in 15 finally loses her's.

The survey showed that perfect dental health is found in about one out of 12 patients. Another interesting finding of the survey is that tooth decay is apparently the main reason for loss of teeth among males up to the age of 34. But that after that, gum ailments and other diseases exact the heaviest toll. Tooth decay is the principal reason for the loss of teeth among females up to the age of 39.

About the only alibi the males have in this situation is that most dentists are men. Perhaps the women are more inclined to visit dentists of the opposite sex than men are to visit male dentists. A test of this theory might prove interesting to the men.

One reason young people know more than older persons is that the o. p. forget what they learned when they were young.

Latest Rumors From Political Front of Nation

President Eisenhower is more surprised than some of his top aides over election upsets in this off year that make some dent in Republican political strength. The President had no idea that voters could develop irritations in such a short time.

Mr. Eisenhower likes the line of appeal of the "liberal" or "New Deal" wing of the Republican Party—in any new appeal for votes—more than he does that of the "old guard," or conservative wing. The President finds it difficult to make an all-out attack upon the Democrats with whom he was associated in past years.

Sherman Adams, staff chief for Mr. Eisenhower, is going to be under great pressure to pay more attention to practical Republican politicians who hold seats in Congress. Some of the more down-to-earth Republicans have complained for months about what they say is a White House tendency to give them and their ideas a polite brush-off.

Leonard Hall, who heads the Republican National Committee, from now on is to have more say about who gets jobs and about the line of appeal that is carried in publicity for the Republican Party. Mr. Hall has not been happy about the way the brain trust of his party has been calling the political plays.

Milton Eisenhower, the President's brother, won out over some key Republican Senators in an argument over reorganizing the Soil Conservation Service. Brother Milton lined up on the side of the land-grant colleges and the Farm Bureau Federation, and against some of the party's more astute farm-belt politicians, and got the President's nod.

The President is not any more inclined after elections of 1953 than before to give greater attention to the political advice of Senator Joseph McCarthy, Senator William Jenner or others from the "right wing" of the Republican Party. Many Republican Senators have argued for a more vigorous White House policy of attack against the Democrats.

White House advisers are swinging around to the view that a big Government lending agency—an RFC by another name—will have to be set up to provide easier loans for businessmen who get into trouble. The Small Business Administration that Congress endowed with limited power to lend already is regarded as inadequate.

Senator Harry Byrd is under growing pressure in his State to lead a strong fight against re-election for three Republicans who now hold seats in Congress from Virginia. When the Republican Party went all out to try to elect a Governor in Virginia on November 3 they made it difficult for the Democratic organization of that State to co-operate on the national level in the future.

Ezra Benson, Agriculture Secretary, is steering far away from the idea that Government farm programs should be disaster insurance and is being quoted by farm-State Senators as favoring price supports for major crops higher than those that had been provided by the Democrats. If Republican Senators hear right, a Republican farm program is going to start where the Democratic program left off.

Leverett Saltonstall, Massachusetts Senator and chairman of the powerful Armed Services Committee, is reported not to be in good health at this time. Admiral Arthur Radford, Chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, and his colleagues are strong for extending U. S. aid to help Pakistan build up its armed forces as a new and willing ally. John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, and the country's diplomats, however, incline to a "go slow" attitude for fear of offending India's Prime Minister Nehru.

Joseph Martin, Speaker of the House, has let it out in Europe that Republicans regard Senator Stuart Symington, Missouri Democrat, as the man the Democrats are most likely to nominate for the Presidency in 1956. Mr. Martin agreed with those who believe that Mr. Symington is the man that his party may have to beat to hold on to the White House.

Mme. Vijaya Pandit, head of the United Nations Assembly, is of the opinion that there must be two sides to the question of atrocities committed by Communists in their war against the United Nations. This attitude is raising some further question in Congress concerning U. N. leadership.

Sir Winston Churchill, if top Socialists in Britain are correct, will step out as Prime Minister before April, 1954. Anthony Eden now is regarded by these opposition leaders as Churchill's successor, who can hold office until 1956, when a new election is mandatory.

The news recently in the papers that Ad Wolgast was seriously ill set in motion a whole chain of memories.

Wolgast long has been forgotten by the world but he was once the lightweight champion of that same world by virtue of a victory over one of the most famous fighters of his day, Battling Nelson. The "Durable Dane," they called Nelson; and the "Wisconsin Wildcat" was, I believe, Wolgast's nickname.

Ad Wolgast was responsible for my becoming, at the age of 13, an outstanding sports authority—outstanding, that is, in Coldwater, Mississippi.

When Wolgast was matched with Nelson in a finish fight for the title, no one in Coldwater (population, 1,500, give or take a couple of hundred) thought the challenger had a chance for the reason that no one there had ever heard of him. "No one" is not quite right; there was one—myself. I voiced the opinion that Wolgast would win, a view which was received with disdain.

I had spent the year before in Arizona and there I had read the Los Angeles papers, especially the sports section, and I knew that in the space of a week, Wolgast had fought two world's champions—Abe Attell, featherweight king, and Nelson—and Wolgast had won the "newspaper decision" in both bouts. A fellow that good, I believed, could stop the aging Nelson in a longer fight.

It went 40 rounds. Nelson was almost blind and could hardly raise his gloves at the start of that final round but he was courageous to the core. Ad, reluctant to hit his defenseless opponent, looked appealingly at the referee, and the official stopped the battle.

Wolgast was always the slambang type and he drew the crowds and kept them roaring. He figured in that rarest of all ring incidents: a double knockout, and the only one that ever happened in a championship fight. His adversary, Joe Rivers, a Mexican, was a terrific puncher. Each man landed at the same time and both went down. The referee (as I recall the accounts) counted "10" with both men out. Wolgast revived first—the two men were lying in a heap, Rivers on the bottom—and when Ad staggered to his feet, the official awarded him the fight.

After losing the belt, Wolgast toured the country with a carnival. In German, a young athlete, Bob Hammett, who weighed around 160, knocked out one of the carnival fighters, so he was matched against Wolgast. Ad floored him with a mighty wallop—"I felt like I had been kicked by a mule," Hammett said afterward, but he got up and knocked out the former lightweight champion of the world. (Hammett today is a sergeant of the State Highway Patrol and lives in Pecos.)

Wolgast won the title in 1910 and held it only two years. The blows he received in his many blistering battles affected his mind and he was placed in an institution. There, the years slipped by but in his own darkened understanding, Ad remained the young—a young, ambitious fighter who punched the bag, skipped the rope and explained, "I'm training to meet the champ." He thought that his fight with Battling Nelson was coming up. He lived in a shadow world and he literally shadow-boxed—yes, boxed with the shadows of the yesterdays.

And now he is reported dangerously ill. Pathetic little Ad Wolgast!

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Concern grows over Administration drive to stop inflation. No one seems to argue over the goal, just results.

Treasury Secretary Humphrey takes stand easy credit creates inflation, cheapens money. Many preventive measures are being taken including Federal Reserve Board stopping price support of government bonds.

Banks and lending institutions therefore, cannot get new cash by selling government bonds at par.

With lending money in shorter supply, banks are cutting down on loans, terms. This has affected sales of everything from appliances to new homes. Thus the same thing has been achieved as under now defunct government credit regulations, with one important difference.

Here is the difference. Under regulations, all dealers had to abide by the same terms. With present credit control brought about by Treasury manipulation of money supply, independent business is required to combat inflation, while a few huge retail outlets escape burden.

Here is how it works.

With lending money at a premium, banks are requiring independent dealers to get a down payment, write contract calling for payment of the balance over a comparatively short period before accepting contract.

But a few huge retailers daily advertise "no money down."

The procedure is this. Huge corporate retailers go to banks and borrow millions at a time to finance customer's installment.

© National Federation of Independent Business

purchases. They in turn, charge a higher rate of interest than banks charge to make profit from finance charges and goods, too.

In addition, some retailers have adopted what might be called permanent installment payment plans whereby a customer can buy goods up to any certain limit, pay so much monthly, and can continue buying to the limit of his credit plan. This could also be termed "keeping-customer-in-hook" plan.

This method of merchandising is denied average independent retailer, largely because he is not a big stock corporation with stockholders assets to pledge.

But there seems to be no question that easy lure of "no money down" is customer bait which is harming independent dealer volume, while unknowingly consumers pay huge interest rates.

Therefore, it appears Treasury has decided independent business must fight inflation, while others can increase inflation willy-nilly.

Installment buying has long been, will continue, as a debatable subject.

But the important immediate point is that present treasury policy is to restrict consumer credit to combat inflation.

Yet a few stockholder owned retailer operations are using the situation to take business away from independent competition, and also, if there is any validity to Treasury position, heap coals on the fires of inflation.

It is contradictions as this cause apathy toward government objectives so often deplored by Washington officials. But robbing Peter to pay Paul has never been a good basis on which to build goodwill and influence people.

NOT SO GOOD!

Belleville, Ill. — Mrs. Marie Reichling was standing in her kitchen when a novice driver made a wrong turn in a car, smashing in the front of Mrs. Reichling's house. While Mrs. Reichling was not struck by the debris, she was taken to a hospital, suffering severe shock. The driver of the car was uninjured.

AUSTIN: Feuding between the two factions of Texas Young Democrats, right out in the open, constitutes a sort of sneak prevue of warring to come as the liberals and conservatives slug it out for party control.

Meeting in Fort Worth Friday, the conservatives, headed by Max Triplett of Hillsboro, planned for a state convention and looked ahead to the national convention in St. Paul.

Claiming official sanction, the Triplett group had the endorsement of Wallace Savage of Dallas, state Democratic chairman, and Mrs. H. H. Weinert of Seguin, national committeewoman.

Mrs. Weinert had a letter from Stephen A. Mitchell, national Democratic chairman, to the effect that recognition of a Texas Young Democratic organization must come through approval by senior party officials in the state.

A rival Young Demo organization of liberals was formed at a San Antonio meeting, where Bill McKnight of Dallas was elected president and authorized the executive committee to send delegates to St. Paul.

Official status also was claimed by the liberals, who said they had the nod from the national young Democratic organization.

LIBERALS and conservatives are apparently agreed on one thing: Texas is in no danger of becoming a Republican state.

Governor Allan Shivers told reporters that "Texas is an overwhelmingly Democratic State and, in my opinion, will be that way for a long time to come."

Shivers, of course, is bitterly opposed to the liberal Democrats who stuck with Adlai Stevenson last year. The Governor led the Texas Democrats in the successful Eisenhower campaign.

Liberal Texas Democrats, viewed recent elections around the country as a "trend back to the party fold."

A typical comment was that of Congressman Homer Thornberry, who said that while he didn't consider the Democratic victories a reflection on the president, he did see "a trend away from the Republicans and a feeling that they are not performing on their promises."

ONE POINT of contention between the liberals and the conservatives is the matter of states' rights.

Shivers established his viewpoint on the subject at a session of southern governors in Hot Springs, Va.

"We have allowed ourselves to be bribed with our own money," the governor said, adding:

"The matching dollar with strings attached has carried the federal government into nearly every phase of state activity."

PROSPECTIVE candidates for governorship of Texas still are waiting for Shivers to make up his mind. Their places hinge on his decision. It presents the peculiar case of the political fortunes of many men hinging on the decision of one. He refuses to be counted in or out of the picture.

Many who might run wonder whether they would be respected more for making up their own minds, rather than waiting for the governor to decide for them.

At the Virginia meeting, Shivers was asked whether he might run for the U. S. Senate against Lyndon Johnson.

Shivers responded that he hadn't any idea of running for anything right now, but "don't construe that as saying that I would not be a candidate for the Senate."

MAYOR ROY HOFHEINZ of Houston was one of the many who sat waiting for Shivers.

He told reporters that he does not intend to run for governor if Shivers is a candidate for re-election.

Did that mean that he would run for governor if Shivers is not a candidate?

Mayor Hofheinz did not say. Another man who had thoughts of politics in his mind was Congressman Lloyd M. Bentsen, Jr. Here is a newspaper's comment on the occasion of Bentsen's visit to Austin to address the junior chamber of commerce:

"Bentsen's plans for next year have provided one of the state's best political guessing games. To date he has had nothing definite to say."

Our guess is that Bentsen will not say until he hears what Shivers is going to do.

SHOULD TEXAS optometrists be permitted to advertise?

The question is going to be fought out in the courts.

Reason: The State Board of Examiners in Optometry has ordered

Ticklers

By George

"At least you gotta give her credit! She sure tries hard to lose weight!"

a new "standard of practice," banning advertising other than a professional card not to exceed two by four inches in size.

During the last session of the Legislature, the Texas Optometric Association tried to push through a bill granting the state board authority to enforce this same code of ethics primarily designed to stop price advertising. Legislature refused to pass the bill. So the board adopts it anyway.

Legislature creates board. Board thumbs noses at legislature. Sort of like David whipping Goliath, isn't it?

Question to be decided now is: Is the Board more powerful than the legislature?

Meanwhile the public will watch with interest for if the rule is allowed to stand the price of eyeglasses will skyrocket as it has in other states where such non-advertising laws exist.

ASSOCIATE JUSTICE Will Wilson of the Texas Supreme Court, writing in the Texas Legion News, praised the veterans land program and suggested that it be extended to include city and town real estate.

"If a veteran did not wish to use his loan for a home," wrote Wilson, "he should be given the opportunity to make a conservative investment in well-secured rental property, such as an apartment or a small building."

Under the present veterans land program, former service men can purchase farm or ranch land by making a modest down payment with the rest payable on a long-term basis at low interest.

HELP IS on the way for people in the drouth-stricken parts of Texas.

They will get hay for their livestock, free of shipping cost, through a program jointly worked out by the state and the federal government. Texas' Commissioner of Agriculture John White completed final arrangements with Washington officials.

There were 86 counties still in the emergency drouth-stricken parts of Texas.

Winter grains, pastures, and cover crops benefited from widespread precipitation as drizzling rains over much of the state helped relieve the drouth.

SHORT SNORTS: Hunters of waterfowl can look forward to a good season now, and it will be better when cold weather in Canada sends most of the birds winging south, says Howard Dodgen, secretary of the state game commission. Autumn employment will be on the increase in the state, says the Texas Employment Commission, as money from crops stimulates business. Austin may be designated as the one spot in Texas for a new vaccine that scientists believe will bring polio under control.

CHANGED "George," said Mrs. Lovewell to her husband. "I have received a letter from mother saying she is not accepting our invitation to visit us, and saying we do not appear to want her. What does she mean by that? I asked you to write and tell her to come at her own convenience. You wrote to her, didn't you?" "Yes," said George, "but—er—I couldn't spell that word conveniently, so I made it risk."

Who Is Owner of "The Mystery Farm" of This Week

A typical "home on the plains" is pictured in Mystery Farm No. 34. The three buildings in the left foreground picture the modern trend in building as well as that of a generation ago. The modern house and double garage are today's building style while the next building, the one showing a little age, is the type of outbuilding that was constructed on farms approximately 25 years ago. Do you know whose farm it is? The owner will receive a free 5x7 gloss photograph of the farm when he comes to The News office and identifies the place.

AIR WEST POINT

The Air Force has announced that it is ready to set up a West Point of the Air as soon as Congress gives its consent. A curriculum has been drafted and other details worked out, to be put into operation as soon as authorization is given. Seven possible locations of the academy have already been selected — 3 in Texas and one each in California, Colorado, Indiana and North Carolina.

The other man turned and said, "Eight thirty!" After character number three had gone, character number two asked, "Whey didn't you tell him

FARMERS' INCOME

Prospects are that the nation's farmers will wind up 1953 with a total net income a billion dollars less than last year, according to the Agriculture Department. It estimated that the farmers' net income for the calendar year would be $12,500,000,000 — a decrease of seven per cent from 1952 income. This drop, in the face of a record high volume of farm marketings, is due to considerably lower prices.

Former Canyon Boy Wins DFC On Photo Flight

Capt. Cecil E. Newberry, a former Canyon boy, was recently honored with one of the highest medals the Air Force gives, the Distinguished Flying Cross. Mrs. Robert O. Moore, mother of Capt. Newberry, wrote The News of the honor bestowed upon her son. The presentation of the medal was made by Lt. Col. C. C. Clark.

The citation was only one of the three parts of the presentation of the medal to Captain Newberry. Opening portion of the presentation was: "By direction of the President, Capt. Cecil E. Newberry has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross."

CITATION

Captain Cecil E. Newberry distinguished himself by extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flight as a pilot of an R. B. 26 aircraft in the air offensive of the United States in Korea. On the night of February 4, 1952, Captain Newberry demonstrated exceptional skill and courage while piloting his unarmed aircraft over strongly defended Senuigui Airfield. For several minutes he and his crew were subjected to continuous heavy anti-aircraft fire and searchlights. Throughout the bomb-photo run more than twenty searchlights remained fixed on the aircraft, completely blinding him and precluding his orienting himself with relation to the ground by either flight instruments or natural horizon.

Though blasts from near hits buffeted the aircraft, Captain Newberry calmly and determinedly directed crew and aircraft in a manner fully a credit to his professional ability as a pilot and his courage as an officer. His devotion to duty was in direct keeping with the highest traditions of the service.

This was the body of the citation. The last portion of the presentation was: "To warrant an award of D.F.C. for extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flight, the results accomplished must be so exceptional and outstanding as to clearly set him apart from his comrades who have not been so recognized."

Rotary Governor Made Official Visit Local Club Tuesday

Herschel Coffee, District Governor of the 183rd Rotary District, paid his official visit to the Canyon Rotary Club Tuesday, speaking at the program of the club at the noon luncheon. He was accompanied by Mrs. Coffee and wife of President Winston Wilbanks.

Governor Coffee held a Club Assembly Monday night when he discussed the strength and weaknesses of the local club and of the clubs which he had visited. Canyon was the 25th club of the 37 in the district to be visited.

Dr. James P. Cornette of West Texas State presented Governor Coffee at the luncheon.

Rotary International is attempting to bring an understanding of Rotary to the various clubs and to promote the best possible conditions of development. After this the operations of the local club are largely upon their own. The local club may do about as it pleases.

Rotary clubs throughout the district are better than the Governor had supposed before starting his visits. The clubs are well organized, and have experienced a splendid growth in membership. One new club has been organized. The attendance record of the district is the best in the entire South and has never been below 11th place among the 116 districts.

The greatest prevailing shortcoming of Rotary is its failure to accomplish as much as the resources of the clubs permit.

Governor Coffee urges clubs to do everything possible in the development of the community and to work with all organizations for the improvements of local conditions.

Rotary dividends pay off just so long as each Rotarian invests in the program adopted by the club. Visitors were Mrs. Coffee, Mrs. Wilbanks, and Junior Rotarians Lonnie Davis and George Branner of Canyon; Howard M. Hunter of Los Angeles; Berry Jackson of Hereford; S. D. Dean, R. G. Mills, L. W. Ledbetter, E. Kancher, Bill Defee, J. J. Sanders, all of Amarillo.

Ike Hates His Job Is Prediction

By EDWARD H. SIMS

WASHINGTON: President Dwight D. Eisenhower sought to reassure reporters about his health in a recent Washington news conference. The President admitted his elbow had been giving him trouble but said his health was otherwise very satisfactory.

Reporters were reluctant to ask the President about the condition of his health but the question was finally put to him in sugar-coated words. The President said if his health was not tip-top then his doctors certainly had him fooled.

The Chief Executive did not look like a sick man when he met reporters and he seems in better than average health for a man of 63 years. There is no doubt, however, that the strain of being the chief executive officer of the United States is putting a heavy burden on the soldier-President's shoulders.

In short, Ike hates politics and politicians. Dealing that medium at all is a pain to him. He has spent all of his life in the straightforward job of being a soldier and living by an officer's code of honor. There isn't much in common with that philosophy and a political philosophy.

A lot of people close to the President don't understand that themselves. Very few people know Dwight D. Eisenhower intimately. In fact, there are those who feel that the only ones who know him are several members of his family. Even aides who served all through World War II with him still don't know what goes on in Ike's head. Only one thing is sure. The President finds politics boring, tiresome and dull. He is more in his own soldiering than politicking.

WARDEN KILLS BUCK

Bisbee, Ariz. — Out to find violators of the deer law, Deputy Sheriff Bennett Moson drove into a game preserve. Suddenly, a four-point buck darted across the road in front of Moson's car. Moson tried to avoid hitting the deer but there wasn't time before the collision. The embarrassed Moson pulled the deer into his car and contributed it to the county hospital.

Meat-Stuffed Potatoes Make a Lusty Dish

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

NO matter what the season, meat and potatoes are still the basis of most good meals. With potatoes now so plentiful and a wide variety of canned meats available, meal planning is much easier.

We've tried the following recipes at our home. Everyone, including the two boys with lusty appetites, voted them "big time."

Meat-Stuffed Potatoes (4 servings)

Four large baked potatoes, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 to 2 cans deviled ham or potted meat, ¼ cup milk, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley.

As soon as potatoes are baked, cut slice from top of each. Scoop out potato; do not break skin. Mash potatoes with butter; stir in deviled ham or potted meat and milk; beat until light and fluffy. Stir in parsley. Add salt to taste. Pile into shells. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) until lightly browned.

Vienna Sausage Dinner (4 servings)

Four and one half tablespoons dry skim milk, 1½ cups water, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 4 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1½ pounds small white onions, cooked, 2 cans Vienna sausage.

Sprinkle dry skim milk on top of water. Beat slowly with rotary beater until dissolved; reserve. Melt butter. Add flour, salt and pepper; stir to a smooth paste. Add reserved liquid and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Add onions; heat. Heat Vienna sausage in own liquid. Turn creamed onions into serving dish; top with Vienna sausage.

Luncheon Meat—Sweet Potato Puff (4 servings)

Two pounds sweet potatoes, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons unsulphured molasses, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup raisins, 1 can luncheon meat, 1 orange (peeled and sliced), 1 tablespoon brown sugar.

Cook potatoes in boiling water until tender. Drain and peel. Mash potatoes. Add butter, molasses and salt; beat until light and fluffy. Stir in raisins. Place potatoes in a shallow casserole. Cut luncheon meat into 6 slices; arrange meat on top of potatoes with halved orange slices. Sprinkle meat with brown sugar. Bake in a moderate oven, 375 degrees F., 20 minutes.

Just Between You, Me and the Gatepost

By Lawrence Hunnicutt

Some people sure love to go duck hunting. Of course we can't mention anything definite here but if you're ever in need of a good duck hunting story, see Kenny Goodman. Yes sir, Kenny knows a lot of good duck hunting stories as well as some good fishing tales.

County Judge Roy Joe Stevens seemed very happy the other day. When we started to learn the occasion we had to back down. At the time it seemed that an invitation to a cup of coffee would give us the secret to his happiness. When we offered the invitation, the Judge wanted to know if it included breakfast. Wayne Bagley said, "That's just like him, offer him an inch and he takes the entire yardstick." Still we don't know the secret of the Judge's happiness.

When Wayne Bagley joined the District Attorney's office staff in Amarillo recently he received a lot of criticism about his part in the Lucas-Robertson deal. Most of this criticism was unwarranted because Bagley was appointed by the court to defend Lucas. He knew nothing about the so-called "deal" until the case was actually in the courtroom. In all fairness to Bagley it should be known that he did the only honorable thing he could do under the circumstance. He was appointed to defend Lucas and he did the job without pay of any kind.

One of the latest growing pains to be suffered by Canyon is that brought on by city delivery of mail. No longer can you address a card or letter to someone and mark it "city" and expect it to get to its destination. It must have the correct street and house number or box number to get to the right person. Postmaster Guy Harp pointed out some of these things in explaining the new delivery service. Sometimes, he said, a letter would be addressed to some person and the only address given would be city. Often there is more than one person by that name and this makes it impossible to determine who should get the mail.

One of the touchy subjects about the Chamber of Commerce office late last week was that of a speaker for the annual C of C banquet coming up in a few weeks. Manager Roland Black tried to get the question settled early but there were some people who didn't want a political speaker. When they checked up on a professional speaker it was learned that the cost was too high. By that time most of the political speakers had loaded their schedule and could not accept. The whole deal had Roland wondering, "To speak or not to speak, that is the question."

What Charles Donnell is wondering right now is, "Who's going to be the first to complain about how tough the new golf course is." Many people have said the course was too easy and should be made more difficult. Charles is taking care of that now and when he is finished with the course it will have to be quite a braggart who says it's too easy. What the City Club president is worried about is that the pendulum will swing too far in the other direction and the course will be too difficult.

One married man was complaining to another, "I'm going to get a divorce, my wife hasn't spoken to me for six months." The other married man came back quickly, "You better think twice, wives like that are hard to find."

According to some of the things we have seen, the drouth has not affected some of the more recent crops. One of the things in mind at present is the present turnip crop. Last week S. H. Jones brought in three turnips that weighed three pounds. That's an average of one pound each and one pound in one turnip is a lot of turnip. Yes sir, no matter how you look at it, things are picking up all over.

Lipstick is something that merely adds color and flavor to an old pastime.

Inebriate: "No, thanksh, I can handle the key all right, you shush hold the housh."

PASTOR AND WIFE ENTERTAIN WOMAN'S WESLEY BIBLE CLASS

Rev. Lester L. Hill, pastor of the First Methodist Church, and his wife, entertained the Woman's Wesley Bible Class with a covered dish luncheon on Wednesday at the Methodist parsonage.

Members present were Meses: Mittie Workman, E. C. Penick, Rosa Hungate, J. A. Wiseman, R. E. Foster, Hattie Brasuel, J. L. Moore, L. J. McGehee, I. C. Jenkins, R. M. Barton, and Miss M. Moss Richardson.

Guests sharing in the joyful occasion were Mrs. R. D. Lowry, Miss Elizabeth Cox, Miss Sheffy, Mrs. Harry Hungate, and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Cleavinger, whose son was a room-mate of Rev. Hill's when both were students at West Texas State.

The group joined happily in many old favorite songs with Mrs. Harry Hungate at the piano. The songs ended with the reading of Psalm 150 by Mrs. Barton, a Psalm of Thanksgiving. The meeting was closed with the singing of the Doxology by the group who held hands and bowed their heads as they sang.

Stork Shower Is Given in Reverse

Time changes things and one of the recent changes that has been made here upon some occasions is that of the men giving a prospective father a stork shower instead of the women giving the shower to the prospective mother. Such a shower was given Lawrence Hunnicutt Tuesday night of last week.

That shower was in the home of Crawford Ruthart and got started with the prospective father reading a list of resolutions. Approximately 22 people called or sent gifts for the shower. The game of "42" was played and refreshments of cake, nuts, coffee and tea were served.

Present were Charles Hillier, George Cristy, G. C. "Bing" Crosby, Billy Brown, J. E. Miller, Bill Fonti, Luther Lawless, Jack London, James Latimer, Wayne Wirt, Joe Gill, Dale Killingsworth, Bill Wilson, and co-hosting the double reversal affair were Crawford Ruthart and Durwood Brown.

Those who sent gifts were Dick Louder, Howard Russell, Jack Haley, Gladys Samples, Jewell Tabor and Elmer Mickey.

MRS. W. T. MCGREGOR HOSTESS FOR RUTH S. S. CLASS SOCIAL

Ruth Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church held its monthly social Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Truitt McGregor. The devotional was given by Mrs. R. M. Sigman. Plans were also laid for a Christmas project by the class.

Members present were Meses: Jozach Byrd, Dennis Ford, Wayne Wirt, Sanford Ruthart, Crawford Ruthart, Edd Watkins, John Brazzil, Frank Markham, L. D. Hunnicutt, Bill Fonti, T. H. Knighton, Luther Lawless, and Jack Grundy. Two visitors present were Sharla Ann Grundy and Mrs. R. M. Sigman.

The next meeting of the group is planned for December 10. It is to be a covered dish supper. After the business meeting Thursday, French pie, coffee and tea were served to those present.

Watch Your Step

Today safe driving is being taught in our high school, but what about safe walking? Students need to be educated in safe walking as well as safe driving.

Recently, one of the students in CHS stepped off the school bus and walked into the path of an oncoming car. Fortunately, the driver of the car saw this student in time, and had good brakes.

However, realizing how this could have resulted in a tragedy, we as students should begin to stop, look, and think before crossing the street.

This same type of incident took the lives of 16 per cent of all the deaths of pedestrians in the United States this year.

From the Texas Driving Handbook the following rules for pedestrians were taken:

Look in both directions before stepping from behind a parked car.

Observe traffic signals.

Look in both directions before crossing a street or highway.

Cross streets in pedestrian lanes when possible.

Always walk on the left side of the highway facing oncoming traffic, and step off the pavement when a motor vehicle approaches.

Students, watch each step you take, so you can be sure to take the next one!

FHA Girls in Style Show and Initiation

Homemaking I, II, and III classes presented a style show in the high school auditorium on November 12. Billene Childers was mistress of ceremonies. The participants were not limited to FHA members.

Entertainment was provided by the freshman trio consisting of Debra McDonald, Barbara Shepard, and Avalon Brown. The freshman sextet consisting of Betty Brotherton, Bernye Bob Woodward, Nelda Coffee, Lynn Atkinson, Theresa Mickey, and Sandra Michael.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria, and the homemaking department was open to the public.

Local FTA Wins at District Meeting

Mr. Future Teacher, Jerry Martin, and Miss Future Teacher, Wnette Green, were named Queen Schoolmarm and King Pedagog at the District IX FTA meeting held at West Texas State College on Wednesday, November 12.

A five minute skit, written by Lucy Hollabaugh, gave the chapter first prize and $20. Miss Future Teacher and Mr. Future Teacher were presented in this skit. Title of the skit was "A Decisive Step," and other participants in the skit were June Davis, Lucy Hollabaugh, Don Wells, Ted Briggs, and Royce Gum. The speaker was Mrs. Elsie Parnell, president of the Classroom Teachers Association.

Wnette and Jerry will represent District IX at the state meeting to be held in Denton on February 18 and 19.

Canyon High School FTA members attended the meeting in order to learn better ways to aid our local chapter in future planning of meetings, social activities, and programs.

A supper was given to the FTA members on Monday night, Nov. 16, in the Canyon High School cafeteria. Mothers of the FTA members gave and prepared the supper. The program, consisting of a duet sung by Ray Green and Edward Wells and a piano solo played by LaNelle Gum carried out the Thanksgiving theme.

Eagles Lose to Rangers 33-13

Perryton Rangers trampled the Canyon Eagles 33-13 at Perryton Friday night. Both teams scored in the first quarter but Perryton was first to score. It was Ed Cummings who tallied for the Rangers first and Don Beck who tallied first for the Eagles. Bill Thrasher converted for the Rangers and Jamie Airhart for the Eagles.

At half-time Perryton had made its second touchdown and also converted. At this time the score was 14-7 in favor of the Rangers. Canyon's second TD didn't come until near the end of the third period when R. A. Burgess climaxed a long field march with a one yard plunge that netted the Eagles their second and final tally of the game. The conversion was no good and the Eagles ended the game with 13 points totaled up by the touchdown.

The Eagles play one more game this season. They meet Hereford here Friday night. Although the Eagles have won three games this season, they have not won a conference tilt.

Canyon B Wins Over Borger B

The Canyon B team dropped the Rovers of Borger High School from the undefeated, untied ranks with a score of 40 to 6.

Behind sharp and stubborn line play, Canyon backs scored through the air and on the ground. The scoring was as follows: Elmer Clements ran two touchdowns, one extra point and kicked one extra point; Charles Joyner ran one touchdown and one extra point; Ronnie Ratliff ran one touchdown and one extra point; and George Snapp intercepted a pass and ran 50 yards behind good blocking for a touchdown; and Harlie Adams ran one touchdown and one extra point.

Joe's Blows

Perryton's Rangers pulled a surprising upset over Dalhart's Wolves 14-6 Friday night, November 6. This was the only upset though as the other games went as expected. Phillips clobbered the Irish of Shamrock, 41 to 12, and Dumas defeated Canyon 41 to 0. As the season comes to a close, Dumas and Phillips are still leading the pack as the two undefeated teams. The game between these two teams November 20 will probably be the championship game unless some team pulls a very surprising upset.

Lucy Hollabaugh Writes FTA Skit

"It was an accomplishment, but it couldn't have been done without the outstanding FTA members of the cast," was the statement of Lucy Hollabaugh when a skit she wrote won first place in the District IX FTA meeting. Title of the skit was "A Decisive Step," and was given at West Texas State College on Wednesday, November 11.

Lucy has attended the Canyon schools ten years. She moved in the second grade, but came back in the third grade and since that time has attended school here.

Each of Lucy's high school years she has been active in her classes and several school clubs. As a freshman she held membership in FHA, choir, and was SFC representative for her class.

During her sophomore year Lucy was in the FHA, FTA, and Science Club. Probationary membership in NHS, membership in FTA, and Science Club are held this year by Lucy.

Reading is her hobby. "To be able to teach as well as Mrs. Beard" is her ambition. After high school she plans to enter West Texas State College where English will be her major.

Senior Teens

"To do something really worthwhile," is the ambition of the first senior teen this week. This person plans to enter Oklahoma University and major in designing. Membership in various school clubs and musical groups has been and are held by teen number one. This senior has held several offices in classes as well as clubs. "A very dependable person with a pleasant readiness," was said of this person by one of the faculty members.

"Even though this person has not attended Canyon High School but a few years, the best of sportsmanship has been shown by this person," said a friend about this teen.

A major in insurance executive work at Texas A&M is the chosen vocation of teen number two. This person is a member of several school clubs and activities. Beginning with a BANG, 1953 pre-election campaign for president and vice-president of the Student-Faculty Congress got underway. "Let's Go Boling... This is a true episode, only the facts have been changed to protect Foster..." were the themes used by campaigners.

After the smoke had cleared from the balloting room, Arlen Ruthart was elected president and Ken Kuykendall vice-president of the Student-Faculty Congress of Canyon High School. Arlen's opponent for president was Charles Boling, and Ken's opponent for president was Foster Parker.

Arlen is a senior this year and his hobby is athletics. He has been active in football, basketball, and track. He took part in the junior play and is a member of the National Honor Society and FFA. He was president of the sophomore class and vice-president of the Student-Faculty Congress of '52-'53. He plans to attend West Texas State College and enter the field of agriculture.

Ken is a junior this year, probationary member of the National Honor Society, and a member of the junior play cast. He was president of the freshman class, and FFA songleader. Ken is secretary of the junior class and secretary of FFA. He plays tackle on the A football team, was co-captain of the B team last year, and a member of the FFA chapter team.

Lonnie Davis was master of ceremonies of the assembly. Campaign speeches for each candidate were presented by the campaign committees.

Campaigning for Arlen Ruthart were Ted Lowe, Dorothy Neblett, and Bob Wilkinson. The campaign committee for Charles Boling were Billie Graham and Martha McBroome.

Vice-president campaign committee for Ken Kuykendall was Jimmie Simon, Jamie Airhart, and Ann Moore. Campaigning for Foster Parker were Jack McCormick, Hubert Green, and Janelda Cunningham.

Well kiddies, how would you like to hear a story of the old west where men were men and women were glad of it?

'Twas in a happy valley deep in the happy western hills on the happy ICU Ranch. There lived happy Little Nell with her happy husband Tuttle Trubud in their happy cottage, Happy Cottage. 'Twasn't an ordinary western ranch but a happy eagle ranch. All the other ranchers tried to make life unhappy for happy little Nell and her happy husband Tuttle Trubud for they didn't approve of eagle ranching.

The evil ranchers evilly plotted to run their evil whitefaces evilly through the happy, Happy Cottage and the happy ICU Ranch. Happy Little Nell and her happy husband Tuttle Trubud sent their happy eagle trainer, Guy Harrison, and his happy assistant, "Happy" Conner to get their happy eagles and head off the evil whitefaces at the canyon. The happy, Harrison-trained eagles used their new secret weapon to head off the evil whitefaces at the canyon.

The happy, Harrison-trained eagles headed off the evil whitefaces at the canyon and the happy, Happy Cottage on the happy ICU Ranch was saved. The happy inhabitants of the happy, Happy Cottage on the happy ICU Ranch, happy Little Nell and her happy husband Tuttle Trubud lived happily all the rest of their happy lives in the happy, Happy Cottage on the happy ICU Ranch in a happy valley deep in the happy western hills.

The moral of this little tale is —not sip your cider from a pail —but the Eagles will head off the Whitefaces at Canyon.

Miller Attends Lubbock Meeting

3. Beginning teachers without degrees; assignments of teachers to teach in fields outside of their specific preparation.
4. Amount spent on library.
5. Excessive number of periods taught by any teacher.
6. Percentage of pupils carrying five or more loads.

Mr. Miller will send his report to the state committee meeting on November 16 and 17, to be held in Austin at the Texas Education Agency headquarters.

Red Cross Assembly Stars School Faculty

Laughter, plenty of it, rang and echoed through the high school Thursday morning, November 12, in the assembly sponsored by the Junior Red Cross featuring members of the high school faculty in starring roles. The program was opened by Joe Dickerson. Peggy Sheets acted as mistress of ceremonies.

Stars of the first act were Joe A. Gibson, Waylon Carroll, Oscar H. Shuette, J. E. Miller, and George Cristy singing "Bulldog on the Bank" and "A Bicycle Built for Two."

Mrs. Gilmore gave a humorous reading on the affairs of a young married couple.

Joe Britt had trouble directing "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon" as sung by Jamie Airhart, Raymond Haddock, Charles Boling, and Roland O'Donald. The disposal of each was definite, but somewhere along the line, the plan backfired and Joe was defeated by Roland.

Homer and Jethro, our own Mrs. Cecil Simms and Mrs. Clara B. Long, appeared in a song and dance routine.

A quartet of lovely ladies, Marilyn Payne, Mrs. Joe Findley, Mrs. Tom Beard, and Mrs. Dan Sanders warbled "Li'l Liza Jane" but needed a sponge for "Clementine."

Clyde Swatzell played a clarinet solo, accompanied by Mrs. Houston Bright.

Last, but not least, was Eddie Conner, speech teacher, giving a clever talk, but breaking all the rules of public speaking.

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK

Last week was American Education Week. The public was urged to visit the schools of the community. Purpose of this visitation was to increase the understanding between the public and schools, to inform the public on school activities, and for the personal contact of parent and teacher.

Many parents and interested friends visited the schools in response to the invitation. A faculty member was overheard to say, "It is very gratifying to know that so many of the parents are interested in our schools."

Irvine-Rinke Vows Read Wednesday In Outdoor Beauty

Delores Irvine, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Edgar A. Irvine of Ceta Canyon Methodist Camp, became the bride of William A. Rinke, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Rinke of Princeton, Ill., at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, November 11, in a most beautiful and unusual setting.

The single ring ceremony was read by the bride's father in the outdoor Green Cathedral at the Methodist Camp Ground. The rock altar under the trees was surrounded by growing green cedars, vines and trees in their most gorgeous autumn splendor.

Mrs. E. H. Cole of Hereford, sister of the bride, as matron-of-honor and the bride's only attendant, wore a mauve wool street length dress and gardenia corsage.

Best man was E. H. Cole of Hereford.

The bride wore a navy nylon suit dress with navy accessories and white carnations in her hair. She carried a white Bible with white gardenia spray with streamers of satin ribbon tied in love knots.

Mrs. Irvine, mother of the bride, wore a navy dress with black and white accessories and a white corsage. Mrs. Rinke, mother of the bridegroom, wore a brown suit dress with brown and white accessories and white corsage.

Immediately after the wedding ceremony the couple was honored with a wedding supper in the home of the bride's parents. The table, laid with white linen, was centered with an arrangement of giant white mums and heather, flanked by tall tapers.

For the wedding trip which will be terminated at their home in Spokane, Wash., the bride traveled in a wine wool suit with navy accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Mrs. Rinke attended Canyon High School, graduated from Happy High School and was attending McMurry College in Abilene at the time of her marriage. In McMurry she was a member of Volunteers, a religious organization, Wah Wah Tasse, girl's service club, German club, and Kappa Phi, social club.

Mr. Rinke was graduated from Princeton High School and attended Indiana University. He is a member of the Army Air Force, stationed at Spokane.

Lions Dedicate Program to New School Building

Wednesday's Lions program was dedicated to the new elementary school on which a bond issue is to be voted Saturday. Lion Joe Gibson, superintendent of Canyon school system, was introduced first. He extended an invitation to all parents to visit the schools at any time. Although last week was American Education Week, Gibson stressed the fact that parents and other people interested in public school work are invited to the schools at any time they desire to come and visit.

Lion Emmitt Smith, associate professor of education at West Texas State College, was one of the principal figures in planning and promoting the new elementary school building. Smith explained the procedure behind the plans for the new building. He said this new elementary school building had been given more study and planning than any school building in this area. The present plans were arrived at after a group of 100 citizens met as an education committee with the school board to study the local needs in a new school building. Smith said that no other school had been given such careful study.

The citizens studied every aspect of the problem and made their recommendations to the school board as to the kind of plans the architect should draw up. Smith also explained that the change of the elementary grades from the Education Building at West Texas State College would be a gradual one. The students are not being kicked out of the building, Smith pointed out. Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State College, has recommended that six classrooms be retained in the building for elementary grades.

Upon finishing his talk before the Lions, Smith introduced Bill Townes, one of the architects who drew up the plans for the new elementary school building and addition to present plant. Townes presented the building plans and showed and explained the model of the new building. At the end of his talk Townes, who was the only guest of the Lions Wednesday, answered questions concerning the building.

Today the Lions of Canyon combined their luncheon meeting with the Hereford Lions Club. They are meeting together at the Jim Hill Hotel in Hereford.

Woman's Book Club Plans Holiday Tea

The Woman's Book Club is meeting today for the second time in November. This date was arranged by the program committee in keeping with the club constitution in order that the week of Thanksgiving might be free from interruption.

Mrs. L. A. Donnell and Mrs. Frank Morgan were in charge of the study session on November 11. Mrs. Morgan spoke of Polytheism, showing how primitive peoples reached out toward a supreme being whom they feared and wished to appease. Mrs. Donnell traced the development of religious ideas among the Jewish people, and reminded her hearers that their experience and ideas, as given in the Old Testament, form the background for the Christian Religion of today.

At the business session, in charge of President Edna Graham, and with Mrs. J. W. Kleinschmidt acting as secretary in the absence of Mrs. K. E. Frieze, an invitation from the Happy Study Club was read. Its members wished the Woman's Book Club to attend a silver tea, a benefit for Girls' Town.

Miss Darthula Walker headed a committee which brought in a report revising a portion of the club constitution, in order that its procedure would agree with that set up by the County Library Board. The report was approved by the club.

Mrs. Walter Graham, Mrs. S. H. Condon, and Mrs. Ray Campbell were named as a nominating committee to suggest members as the club's representatives on the Randall County Library Board. They will be elected in January.

The annual Christmas tea was discussed and it was decided that a Christmas tree and an exchange of gifts, not to cost over one dollar, will be features of the occasion.

The club expressed its pleased approval of the nomination of Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview for a vice-presidency in the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Walker has been president of the Seventh District, to which Canyon clubs belong, and of the State Federation. She has served as a committee chairman in the national organization for many years.

Present on the November 11 meeting were Mesdames H. A. Brown, C. R. Burrow, Campbell, A. A. Clark, Condon, James P. Cornette, Donnell, C. M. Dowlen, Lee Foster, Tom C. Gooch, Walter Graham, Charles Harter, Frank Kimbrough, Kleinschmidt, T. H. Knighton, S. B. Louder.

T. B. McCarter, Clyde McElroy, Morgan, T. V. Reeves, R. A. Neblett, Irving SoRelle, Fred Standley, S. L. Ingham, A. W. Sternberg, Miss Walker and Miss Graham.

Carver Choir To Present Program

The public is cordially invited to attend a program to be presented by the Carver School Choir of Amarillo under the direction of Mrs. Alyce Chapman.

The program is sponsored by the Wesleyan Service Guild of Canyon, and will be presented in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church of Canyon at 7 p. m. Sunday, December 6.

A program of anthems, spirituals and Christmas songs by approximately 55 members of the choir promises to be impressive.

A free-will offering will be taken as a token of appreciation for the choir. The Guild's earnest desire is to have a large attendance, representing all denominations, and to make this program the beginning of a most happy and Holy Christmas season.

Avoid Mistakes in Either Written or Oral Contracts

Nearly every day all of us are making agreements with our fellow citizens. Our whole system of free enterprise and trade is based, to a large extent, upon mutual agreements or promises to do something in the future. The important thing we need to remember is to make every agreement perfectly clear whether it is oral or written.

Generally speaking, you can enter into a verbal agreement that is just as binding as a written contract. Consequently, the great majority of contracts that we enter into are never put into written form. But exact terms of an oral contract may be difficult to establish if a disagreement arises, and a well drawn written contract will help to avoid the unfortunate disputes which arise from honest misunderstanding.

Not every written contract meets the test of clarity, however. Suppose Mr. Householder has a piece of paper on which is written the heading "Proposal" and which thereafter reads as follows:

"We will build a garage for you on your lot for the estimated price of $800, work to be done in a workmanlike manner. All of our work is guaranteed to your satisfaction. Subject to the conditions printed on the reverse side."

This is signed by the XYZ Company. Under this signature is the word "Accepted" followed by a line for the signature of Mr. Householder. His question is, should he sign it?

Here are some of the misunderstandings that might arise from such agreement: The company has agreed to build a garage—yet nothing is said about the size or type of construction. It has not even been stated whether it is to be a single or double garage. There is no indication in the agreement as to where on the lot the garage will be built. It says nothing about when the work is to be finished. There is no agreement as to whether Mr. Householder is to pay in advance, in installments, or not until it is completed.

Further, they have not actually agreed upon a price. The agreement refers to an estimated price of $800. They should be specific and make either a fixed price contract or an agreement whereby the builder is reimbursed for his expenses plus a definite profit percentage. Perhaps the XYZ Company feels that if their expenses are higher than anticipated, they will be able to charge more than the estimated $800. On the other hand, Mr. Householder probably feels that $800 is the maximum price he will have to pay.

The most important prerequisite of a clear contract is that it cover the essential elements of performance. This is not as difficult as it might seem. Here is a good rule to follow: As to the acts of each party determine WHAT is to be done, WHEN, WHERE and by WHOM. See that these essential parts are included in your agreement.

In addition, remember that if a contract is worth signing, it is worth reading and understanding—all of it.

CHURCH RENT: ONE PEPPERCORN

Abbottstown, Pa. — When the Lutheran Congregation of this small town pays its rent for the year, it will be only the third time in 283 years the rental has been collected. The church bought two lots from John Abbott, at a cost of five shillings and the annual payment of one peppercorn — a dried berry of the black pepper. The 1953 payment will be made as a part of the 200th anniversary of the founding of the town.

More Older Folks Killed by Cars Than With Youth

"With pedestrians, death seems to play favorites."

Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, president of the Texas Safety Association, made this observation today as he pointed out that safe walking odds apparently decrease with age.

"More than one-third of all pedestrians killed in 1952 were aged 65 or older," Col. Tilley said. "Of a total of 8,600 pedestrian fatalities in traffic accidents last year, 3,000 were in this age group," he explained.

He said, "that several factors may be involved in the high traffic fatality rate among older pedestrians."

"Often older people have dimmed eyesight and hearing," he said. "Sometimes they can't see or hear approaching cars as readily as younger people."

"Reflexes are slower and the oldsters can't move as fast to get out of danger," Col. Tilley pointed out.

He observed that injuries to older people more often prove fatal. Broken bones mend more slowly and resistance to disease is lower in those of advanced age.

Col. Tilley urged older people to be especially careful to obey all safety rules when walking out-of-doors.

"Cross streets at intersections only," he cautioned. "Obey traffic lights, and be sure to look both ways and for turning traffic before stepping off the curb."

He urged elderly pedestrians to avoid, as much as possible, walking at night or venturing out in bad weather.

THE SECRETARY of this Board of Trustees shall forthwith issue notice of said election, stating in substance the contents of this election order, and the time and place of said election, and said secretary shall post a copy of such notice at three public places in the District for ten (10) days prior to the date fixed for said election. Immediately after said election has been held, the officers holding the same shall make returns of the results thereof to the Board of Trustees of said School District, and return the ballot box to the Secretary of said Board, who shall safely keep the same and deliver them, together with the returns of said election, to the Board of Trustees at its next regular or special meeting.

SAID ELECTION shall be held and conducted as provided by law for general elections, except as modified by Chapter 13, Title 49, of the 1925 Texas Revised Civil Statutes, and amendments thereto; and this Board will furnish all necessary ballots and other election supplies requisite to said election.

The above order having been read in full, it was moved by Walter Graham and seconded by Roy Byrd, Jr., that the same be passed. Thereupon, the question being called for, the following members of the Board voted "AYE": W. R. Crow, Newton Crain, Walter Graham, Roy Byrd, Jr., Wilford Taylor, Jr., A. C. Haley, Jr., B. E. McCormick, and none voted "NO."

Rotary 6, Lions 0 In Gridiron Tussle

Canyon's faltering Rotary Club put everything on a pass and won its gamble in the football tilt with the roaring Lions in Buffalo Stadium Wednesday night. The final score, 6 for the Rotary Club and 0 for the Lions.

Although the Rotary Club took the game it had to play its men in several positions to do it. The winning touchdown was a pass from Truett Hull to halfback-end-guard-center Lowell Harrison. It was the second year in which the ageing gents in the Rotary Club lucked out on the so-called younger fellows in the Lions Club. Last year the Rotary Club trampled the Lions by a 20-6 score.

No predictions are being made about next year's game. In fact, there is no certainty that there will be a game next year, but the chances are there will be. The only thing the Lions have to look forward to is the fact that in their old age they will be as lucky as the "old men" whom they constantly jibe.

"Next year the Lions hope to have more than four hours notice in order that they might practice more," said "Wee Willie" Wilson, head linesman and substitute relief man.

Livestock Producers Use Special Loans

More than $11,689,000 in special livestock loans has been loaned to approximately 1,190 farmers and ranchers throughout the United States and nearly 600 other applications are being considered, John Barbee, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor for Randall county, reported this week.

The special livestock loan program authorized last July, helps established producers of cattle, sheep, and goats to maintain their herds, Mr. Barbee said. The producers who can borrow are those with good past records of livestock production but who are temporarily unable to get adequate credit from commercial banks, cooperative lending agencies, or other responsible sources to enable them to go ahead with normal livestock operations. They must have reasonable prospects of success with the help of a loan. Commercial feed lot operators are not included.

Applications can be made at the County Farmers Home Administration office at Canyon or Amarillo. Committees authorized by Secretary of Agriculture Benson approve the loans. Applications for more than $50,000 must have final approval by the Secretary of Agriculture in Washington.

A borrower may use his loans for usual expenses of carrying on a livestock operation, including restocking his herd up to the number he held before he had to reduce his herd.

The 5 per cent loans may be amortized over a 3-year period and secured by the best lien possible on the borrower's property and his personal obligation to repay the borrowed money. Other creditors, although not asked to subordinate their claims, are expected to agree to stand by so the farmer can have a fair chance to work out of his difficulties. Agreements are made to let the farmer apply a reasonable part of his livestock income to repaying the special livestock loan.

Catholics Start Clothing Drive

Catholic churches of the High Plains have launched their annual Thanksgiving clothing collection as a part of a nation-wide campaign to gather used clothing, blankets and shoes for shipment to needy people overseas.

The drive to gather serviceable used clothing will continue until Thanksgiving Day. Collection centers have been set up at Catholic churches in Canyon and Umbarger, and all other Catholic churches in the area.

Clothing will be sorted, packed, and sent to War Relief Services of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, which has been set up at New York, San Francisco, and Seattle.

Area director of the Thanksgiving clothing collection is the Rev. L. T. Matthiesen of Amarillo. Mrs. P. M. Carroll of Phillips heads the women's groups cooperating in the project.

Last year more than nine million pounds of usable clothing and shoes were collected in the Thanksgiving appeal. This year the clothing and blankets are ticketed for refugees in Korea, Europe, and the Near East.

Miss Teddie Howell Honored With Coffee

Miss Teddie Howell, bride-elect of John E. Poindexter, was honored Saturday morning with a coffee in the beautiful ranch home of Mrs. Walter Graham. Miss Billie Graham, Mesdames Burney Slack, Nolan Henson, J. B. Anthony, and R. A. Smith were hostesses with Mrs. Graham to the approximately 50 guests who called between 9 and 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Graham and Miss Howell received the guests. Mrs. Duane Howard presided at the guest book.

Hot ham biskettes, heart shaped cinnamon toast, spiced crab apples, sweet peach pickles, stuffed prunes and coffee were served from an attractive table laid with a linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow mums and brown leaves flanked by brown candles.

Business Records Fall Over the Nation - '54 Farm Program Is Good

WASHINGTON: The latest reports from various segments of business show volume records, and profits, are continuing to chalk up new highs. These continuing new highs in business make those guessers who predicted a recession for the last half of 1953—last year—look like bad guessers.

Steel production is setting records, the oil companies report record profits, and numerous corporations have turned in earning sheets in the last month showing that volume and profits moved further up in the third quarter of this year, or during October.

Good business is expected from now to Christmas, partly because of the usual seasonal flurry of business in this period. Businesses will be trying to avoid high tax rates by buying necessary goods and equipment in the calendar year 1953, on the theory that taxes might be down for calendar year 1954.

There will be the usual Christmas shopping rush, which manufacturers say will set a new record in the next six weeks. And there will be some year-end dividends and bonuses to put money into hands eager to spend it.

Since prospects for the rest of the year seem good, the next question is about 1954. Most economists are predicting a mild downturn in business activity—in some but not all fields—in 1954. Of course this is nothing new, for a recession has been predicted now for several years, and hasn't showed.

Undeniably, however, automobile production is reaching the level of demand, and certain other business production found its limit about reached in the last three months. Housing has begun to slow, it seems, and there is definitely trouble on the farm.

While labor has not been supporting the President, labor has nevertheless fared pretty well. Jobs are still plentiful, wages high and salaries haven't lost the ground under the present administration they were losing under the Democratic administration. Income is setting a new record in the country this year, as is sales volume.

Savings are at record highs and while credit purchasing is up, it is not out of proportion, as some seem to believe. The prospect for 1954 is that of some job layoffs, where defense production is trimmed or supply reaches demand, but with some new jobs. Heavy defense spending will continue and there will be new contracts and new construction projects.

With unemployment compensation, bank deposit insurance, social security and all the veterans payments now being made, it does not seem likely that any real scarcity of purchasing power will develop suddenly. The farm income of the nation is less than ten percent of the national gross, and so the farm situation will not necessarily wreck the country's economy.

Income is certain to remain relatively high as long as the government is spending 40 billions for defense. That will mean relatively heavy consumer demand, and that, in turn, will mean more production.

If there is to be a level off, as is generally predicted, it should be mild. And some businesses will continue to move up the ladder in sales volume in 1954, despite the level off in some phases of the economy.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower will go down the line with his Secretary of State when Ezra Taft Benson offers his new farm program. The President is sticking by Benson like President Harry Truman stuck by Dean Acheson, in all the years when Acheson was under heavy fire from Republicans. Ike will have to take the responsibility for Benson's new program, and so he is not coasting along uninformed on what is being worked out at the Department of Agriculture. The President will have his say in the final drafting of the new plan before it goes to Congress.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Benson will stand or fall on the new plan. He will have it ready for Congress in January when the second session of the 83rd Congress meets.

U. S. military leaders in the Pentagon can relax more today than they could during the first two years after war in Korea broke out. It was at least two years after fighting developed in Korea before this country got its newest tanks and best fighter aircraft into production.

Now production on both is underway and in the event of war it could be expanded rapidly. That is quite a contrast to the situation in 1941, when the country had no first-class tanks or fighter aircraft in production at all. The picture is not rosy, by any means, but the United States is better armed today than it has ever been before.

Bufs Bow 38-6 To NTS Eagles

The Buffaloes of West Texas State College had a short winning streak of one game before going back into the ranks of the defeated at the hands of North Texas State's Eagles Saturday at Denton by a score of 38-6.

The Bufs' lone touchdown came as the result of a fumble and a recovery. Robert Whelchel started around the right end of the line and was hit hard by a North Texas tackler only a few yards from the goal line. Whelchel lost the ball but Kenneth Clapp recovered quickly and chugged over for the only West Texas score of the game.

Only two more games remain to be played by the Bufs this season. Next Saturday's game is with New Mexico A&M at Las Cruces. The boys come home for their final game of the season when they meet Texas Western here in Buffalo Stadium on November 28.

Clem Dugan Identifies Mystery Farm No. 33

Mystery Farm No. 33 is the farm home of Clem Dugan. It is located 14 miles southeast of town. Dugan has lived on the farm 14 years. The farm consists of 320 acres, of which 60 acres is grass land and remainder in cultivation. Dryland farming is practiced with wheat, maize and cattle the principal products. Favorite livestock is milking shorthorn. The Dugans have four children. Three of the children are married and not living at home. The one child still at home is Annette, 15. The Canyon News has been going into the Dugan home for 21 years, and favorite sections of the family are the column and news on the front page.

Man's superiority to woman was proved to us again last week. It was a civil defense meeting, and we were all fired up to do our part come disaster, flood or atomic invasion. But we got squeezed out on the first call for volunteers. They put it this way:

"Now all we'll do this afternoon is name Disaster Contact Volunteers. They'll carry a list of ten names and telephone numbers in their billfolds at all times, so they can reach people instantly in case of emergency."

Our hand was half way up as the speaker started, but we were safely sitting on it by the time he had finished.

What woman has anything in her billfold (purse to you) "at all times?" More likely, the house key, the baby's formula and the hostess's street address are all in the "other purse" when she needs them. Even if she has only two purses to her name — one for black and one for brown clothes — chances are she'll still get to a chicken barbecue only to find she's left her lipstick in the other purse.

Our favorite trick is to need a coin for parking, only to discover we've left our coin purse in another handbag. We sometimes spend half a day looking through all purses — old and new, summer and winter — for a recipe or an address that someone gave us weeks earlier. Hence any hope of having an emergency list in the right purse at the time of the explosion would be about as remote as hitting a gusher in the backyard.

Yep, it's a man's world, any way you take it!

Well Rounded Diet Necessary for Child

AUSTIN: In speaking about the food requirements of a child enjoying maximum health, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, emphasized the importance of a well rounded diet and stated that a healthy and well nourished child enjoys life because he is physically fit.

Stressing the importance to health of an adequate and well balanced diet, Dr. Cox stated further that when a child is in good health, his appetite is good, elimination regular and sleep is sound and untroubled.

"A child's appearance can usually help parents to judge the state of his nutrition. A well nourished child has good skin color and there is a moderate padding of fat over the bones and muscles of the arms, legs and body. Muscles are well developed and strong. Teeth are good and the gums firm and pink," Dr. Cox said.

That finicky appetite or a tired feeling after a little exertion indicates a possible malnutrition and the child should see the family physician. Poor appetite can also mean the beginning of an illness and possibly that the child does not require as much food as he is being urged to eat.

Required as a diet for the preschool child and those of school age, Dr. Cox included milk, fruit, vegetables, eggs, meat, fish or cheese, cereal and bread and added that cod liver oil and other vitamin preparations are important in winter and early spring

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

The hue and cry for Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson's scalp points up fact that anybody who holds this post under present conditions is destined to be a hapless goat, unless supplied with billions of dollars to play Santa Claus.

Secretary Benson took stand against heavy spending farm programs as a matter of principle.

Benson's defenders state falling farm prices started before he took office. Available Washington records appear to prove this.

Some in Washington hold there is no solution to the farm problem. Others claim that the only solution is free trade so that American farm products can be exported. However, they overlook fact that much food is being imported today from nations whose people need it, wherever a chink is found in the protective tariff laws.

But others have formed a different concept on farm problem.

They say instead of looking to Agriculture Department nation's farmers should look toward Justice Department and Federal Trade Commission for active Anti-Trust Law enforcement.

Housewives are irked but records show independent retailer and wholesaler are not getting rich. And farmers producing food get only a small share of the dollar spent on most items.

For example, the grower is currently receiving less than 4 cents from the can of peaches retailing for 25 cents, or more. Processing costs account for a part of difference, but independent canners are not making excessive profits.

But into a can of peaches goes various materials.

The tin must be bought through a British controlled monopoly. The sugar is bought at prices controlled by world wide agreement. Sales of cans is held by a few. In many other food products a parallel situation exists.

The supply of commercial fertilizer needed to produce most crops is controlled by a very few firms, some of them subsidiaries of major oil companies. This same situation prevails with insecticides and fungicides. The gasoline and oil that the farmer must buy is sold on a controlled monopoly basis.

And under the present laxity of anti trust enforcement, there appears to be no remedy.

For example, just before the pickle packing season, packers were informed of a 30 per cent immediate increase in the salt price. It was a take or leave it demand, because independent competition is lacking in the salt industry.

Stemming back to the days when with rifle and plow, he carved out his security, the American farmer has always been a symbol of free enterprise.

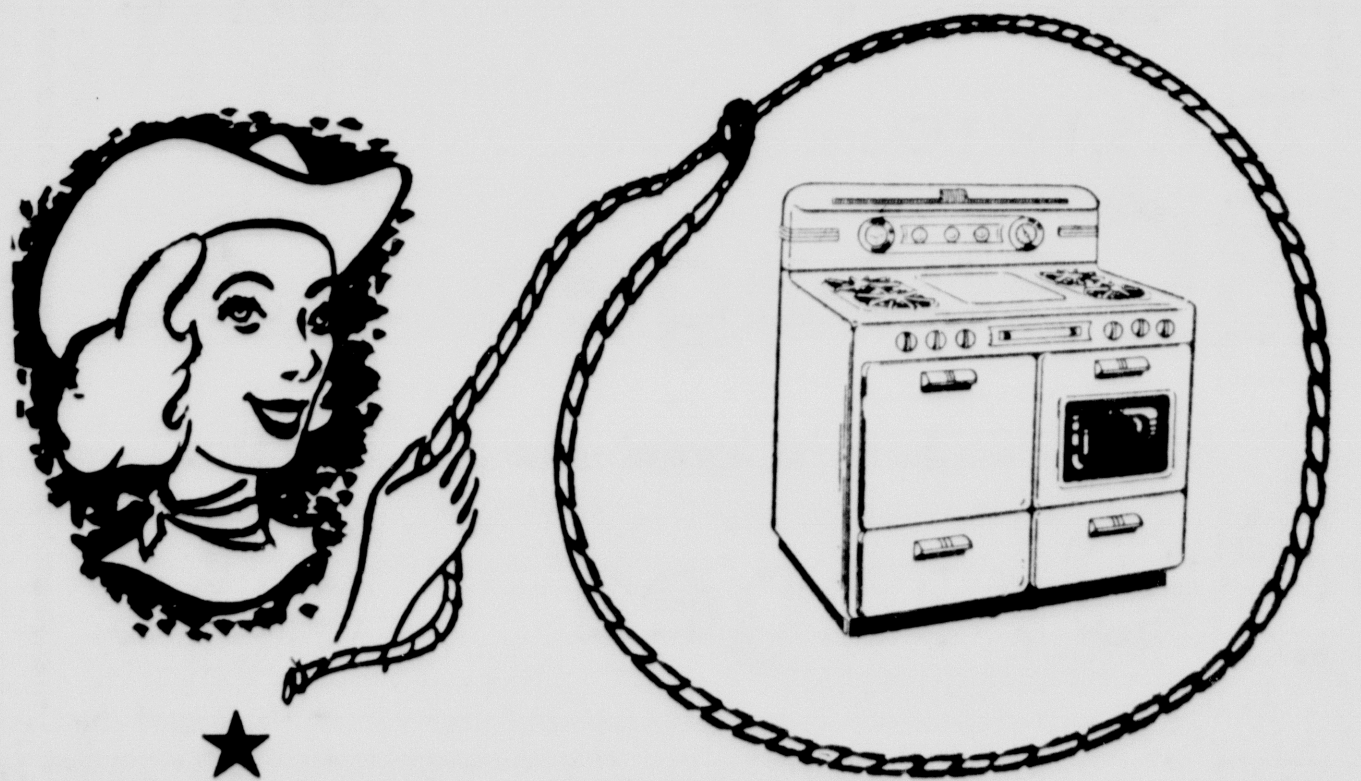

But faced with a controlled market for his products, and with controlled prices for what he buys to produce, the American farmer is dropped from the status of a free enterpriser to a captive in a rigged market.

More aid will be voted to farmers. Only a complete and thorough application of the anti trust laws on all levels of the food business, including the supply of materials needed to produce and process farm products will stop need for aid.
